

Annual Management Report of Fund Performance

AGF Fixed Income Plus Class

September 30, 2023

Management Discussion of Fund Performance

This management discussion of fund performance represents the portfolio management team's view of the significant factors and developments affecting the fund's performance and outlook.

Investment Objective and Strategies

As described in the Simplified Prospectus, the investment objective of AGF Fixed Income Plus Class (the "Fund") is to provide steady income to investors by investing primarily in fixed income securities. To achieve this objective, the Fund currently invests in units of AGF Fixed Income Plus Fund (the "Underlying Fund") and may also invest directly in securities similar to those held by the Underlying Fund. AGF Investments Inc. ("AGFI"), as portfolio manager, looks for government or corporate securities with a history of steady interest or distribution payouts. In the portfolio manager's opinion, these securities have the ability to sustain the payouts for a reasonable period of time and are favourably priced with respect to these payout expectations. The Fund may also invest in convertibles, high yield bonds and floating rate loans as well as up to approximately 49% of its assets (at market value at time of purchase) in foreign securities. During periods of market downturn or for other reasons, a significant portion of the Fund's assets may be held in cash, cash equivalents or fixed income securities.

Risk

The risks of investing in the Fund remain as disclosed in the current prospectus. Any changes to the Fund over the period have not affected the overall level of risk of the Fund.

The Fund continues to be suitable for income-oriented investors investing for the medium term and who have low tolerance for risk. The suitability of the Fund has not changed from what has been disclosed in the prospectus.

Results of Operations

For the year ended September 30, 2023, the Mutual Fund Shares of the Fund returned -0.9% (net of expenses) while the Bloomberg Canada Aggregate Index returned -1.4%. The performance of the other series of the Fund is substantially similar to that of the Mutual Fund Shares, save for differences in expense structure. Refer to "Past Performance" section for performance information of such series.

The Fund holds Series I Units of the Underlying Fund, a fund managed by AGFI. The discussion below references performance figures for Mutual Fund Units of the Underlying Fund. The performance of Series I Units is substantially similar to that of Mutual Fund Units, save for differences in expense structure.

The Fund out-performed the Bloomberg Canada Aggregate Index due to the Underlying Fund's allocation and superior security selection. Additionally, the Underlying Fund's curve positioning and tactical adjustments to duration during the reporting period also supported relative performance. Duration is a measure of the sensitivity of the portfolio to changes in interest rates.

Strong economic data caused bond yields to rise through the end of February 2023, at which point the portfolio manager took advantage of the higher yields by lengthening the duration of the Underlying Fund. After bonds rallied in March due to the failures of three U.S. regional banks, duration was shortened before yields rose again in April. In the second and third calendar quarters of 2023, duration oscillated between slightly underweight to neutral relative to the benchmark but was increased to marginally overweight as of the end of the reporting period, following a meaningful backup in the 10-year treasury yield in September 2023. The Underlying Fund benefited from an underweight exposure to Canadian government bonds relative to the benchmark as government bonds under-performed.

The Underlying Fund's largest positive contribution came from an overweight allocation to corporate bonds along with security selection, as economic resilience over the reporting period acted as a tailwind for corporate credit and other higher beta assets. Beta measures the relative volatility of the value of a security compared with that of a market index. The Underlying Fund focuses on corporate bonds with strong balance sheets and may offset some of this exposure with credit hedges when deemed appropriate. The Underlying Fund also benefited from a large underweight exposure to provincial bonds relative to the benchmark, as government bonds largely under-performed. As yields have continued backing up over the reporting period, the Underlying Fund was able to generate additional alpha through its out-of-benchmark component made up of high yield and convertible bonds, which is less sensitive to moves in interest rates. Alpha is the excess return of the portfolio over the benchmark. The portfolio manager's tactical adjustment to duration during the reporting period supported relative performance.

The Underlying Fund's positioning on the long end of the curve was also a net positive, helping it generate alpha on a duration-neutral basis. As the yield curve suffered further inversion, the light positioning on the front end of the curve helped with relative performance and showcased the portfolio manager's skill in curve positioning.

The Underlying Fund entered into foreign exchange forward contracts during the period under review. As of September 30, 2023, the Underlying Fund was long Canadian dollar and short U.S. dollar in order to hedge its currency exposure.

SEPTEMBER 30, 2023

The Fund had net subscriptions of approximately $33 million for the current period, as compared to net subscriptions of approximately $6 million in the prior period. The portfolio manager does not believe that subscription activity had a meaningful impact on the Fund's performance or the ability to implement its investment strategy.

Total expenses before foreign withholding taxes, commissions and other portfolio transaction costs vary period over period mainly as a result of changes in average Net Asset Values (see Explanatory Note (1) a)) and investor activity, such as number of investor accounts and transactions. Expenses have increased as compared to the previous period due mainly to an increase in average Net Asset Values. The increase in interest expense was due to an increase in overdraft positions throughout the period. The decrease in independent review committee fees was due to variances between the accrued amounts versus the actual expenses incurred in the previous period. All other expenses remained fairly consistent throughout the periods.

Recent Developments

Bond markets remained volatile over the reporting period, driven by variable economic data, geopolitical turmoil, the U.S. debt ceiling standoff, the banking system turmoil and central bank policies. Inflation levels broadly moderated but remained elevated versus target levels, and resilient economic activity also supported further central bank rate hikes, albeit at a more moderate pace. In recognition of the decelerating pace of inflation and the fact that monetary policy acts with a long and variable lag, the Bank of Canada ("BoC") elected to pause its rate hike campaign after raising rates in January 2023 by 0.25%. However, considering the surprisingly strong consumer sentiment and positive economic data, the BoC decided to restart its hiking cycle in June 2023 and raised rates by 0.25% at each of its meetings in June and July. The BoC kept rates unchanged at 5.0% at its September meeting, marking another pause in its tightening cycle, in response to a slowdown in Canada's economy in the second calendar quarter of 2023.

The U.S. economy grew 2.1% in the second calendar quarter of 2023 versus a 2.4% advanced forecast, following a downward revision in August 2023. Furthermore, consumer spending was revised lower to 0.8% growth versus the previous expectation of 1.7%, signaling a potential turn in the consumer strength. The unemployment rate has remained relatively rangebound throughout the calendar year but has ended the third quarter higher at 3.8%, the highest level since February of 2022. The U.S. Federal Reserve (the "Fed") kept the federal funds rate unchanged in its September 2023 meeting at a 22-year high of 5.25%-5.50%, following a 0.25% rate hike in July 2023; however, it indicated there remained a chance of another hike in 2023. Despite lower consumer spending, the consumer price index rose for the second consecutive month to 3.7% in August 2023 from 3.2% in July 2023, led by an increase in oil prices. However, core inflation, which excludes food and energy, slowed for the fifth month to 4.3%. Consumer sentiment decreased to 68.1 in September 2023 from 69.5 in August 2023 due to higher food and energy prices that hurt consumers' purchasing power.

Consumer sentiment is an economic indicator that measures how optimistic consumers feel about their finances and the state of the economy.

The U.S. Dollar Index declined over the reporting period despite the Fed continuing its tightening cycle to achieve its 2.0% inflation target. In September 2023, the European Central Bank ("ECB") raised interest rates for the tenth consecutive time. The ECB also indicated that it is likely done with tightening monetary policy, citing meaningful progress against inflation. The annual inflation rate in the Euro area was 5.2% in August 2023, the lowest since January 2022, but remains much above the ECB target of 2.0%.

Elsewhere, China's economy grew by 6.3% year over year in the second calendar quarter of 2023, compared with a growth of 4.5% in the previous quarter; however, it fell short of the market estimate of 7.3%. China has set a growth target of around 5.0% for 2023, following a 3.0% expansion in 2022. In June 2023, China's economic indicators presented a mixed picture wherein retail sales rose much softer while industrial output growth accelerated. Previously released data showed that China's exports declined the most in three years due to high inflation in key markets and geopolitical factors that affected overseas demand. The worsening real estate crisis, which has put developers such as The China Evergrande Group and Country Garden Holdings Company Limited in a precarious position, has also contributed to China's economic slowdown.

Emerging markets bond performance varied considerably over the reporting period. Local currency-denominated debt (expressed in local currency) marginally out-performed hard currency debt overall, while the local index expressed in U.S. dollar saw a wider margin of out-performance as the dollar weakened over the reporting period versus emerging markets currencies. Many emerging markets central banks were early in raising rates, and now with inflation trending lower, some countries have started cutting rates before their developed markets peers.

Global investment grade bonds delivered positive returns over the reporting period, supported by the declining inflation profile and elevated concerns of slower economic growth in China. The U.S. treasury yield curve inverted further with the 10-year yield increasing from 3.83% to 4.57% and the 2-year treasury yield increasing from 4.28% to 5.04%. Meanwhile, the Canada 10-year bond yield increased from 3.17% to 4.03%, while the yield on the 2-year bond increased from 3.79% to 4.87%, indicating a further inversion, and causing government bonds to under-perform. Credit spreads were erratic, particularly between November 2022 to May 2023, but overall tightened substantially during the reporting period, and most credit categories out-performed government bonds on higher carry versus their safer counterparts. Carry is the difference between the yield on a longer-maturity bond and the cost of borrowing.

Despite the significant tightening so far, the global economic outlook remains somewhat resilient. Inflation has remained sticky, and though it may continue to decelerate in the coming months, central banks remain vigilant about the risk of a resurgence in 2023 and beyond. Meanwhile, policymakers have projected above-target inflation in the next couple of years. As a result, the bar remains high for central banks to cut interest rates soon unless the growth profile deteriorates significantly. Many developed markets yield curves have remained substantially inverted for some time, which historically has been a leading indicator of slowing economic growth.

Given the gyrations in the bond market and a continuation of the hiking cycle, the Underlying Fund was positioned slightly above to neutral in duration at the end of the reporting period. In addition, the drop in inflation break-evens has made inflation linked bonds more attractive and the portfolio manager has built a position in this asset class. The portfolio manager remains selective from a credit perspective, emphasizing quality corporate bonds whose business models appear highly capable of supporting debt payments. Furthermore, the portfolio manager continues to focus on carry, as overall corporate yields remain elevated relative to norms in the last few decades. In the current environment, the portfolio manager is confident that the current positioning is capable of delivering an attractive and high quality mid-single-digit yield.

Effective July 5, 2023, the Mutual Fund Series and Series Q Shares of the Fund are closed to new investors. These series remain available to existing investors, including those with systematic investment plans.

Under International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS"), investments that are traded in an active market are generally valued at closing price, which is determined to be within the bid-ask spread and most representative of fair value. As a result, there is no difference between the net assets per share presented in the financial statements ("Net Assets") and the net asset value per share calculated for fund pricing purposes ("Net Asset Value").

b) The following series of the Fund commenced operations on the following dates, which represents the date upon which securities of a series were first made available for purchase by investors.

Mutual Fund Shares	April 2016
Series F Shares	April 2016
Series I Shares	April 2018
Series Q Shares	April 2016
Series W Shares	April 2016

(2) Net Assets, dividends and distributions are based on the actual number of shares outstanding at the relevant time. The increase/decrease from operations is based on the weighted average number of shares outstanding over the financial period.

(3) Dividends and distributions were paid in cash/reinvested in additional shares of the Fund, or both.

(4) This is not a reconciliation of the beginning and ending Net Assets per share.

(5) The management expense ratio ("MER") of a particular series is calculated in accordance with National Instrument 81-106, based on all the expenses of the Fund (including Harmonized Sales Tax, Goods and Services Tax and interest, but excluding income tax, foreign withholding taxes, commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) attributable to that series, expressed as an annualized percentage of average daily Net Asset Value of that series during the period. For new series launched during the period, the MER is annualized from the date of the first external purchase.

As a result of the Fund's investment in the Underlying Fund, the MER is calculated based on the expenses of the Fund allocated to that series, including expenses indirectly incurred by the Fund attributable to its investment in the Underlying Fund, divided by the average daily Net Asset Value of that series of the Fund during the period.

The Fund does not pay duplicate management fees on the portion of the assets that it invests in the Underlying Fund. Accordingly, AGFI will waive the management fees payable or paid by the Underlying Fund in order to avoid such duplication.

(6) AGFI waived certain fees or absorbed certain expenses otherwise payable by the Fund. The amount of expenses waived or absorbed is determined annually on a series by series basis at the discretion of AGFI and AGFI can terminate the waiver or absorption at any time.

(7) The trading expense ratio ("TER") represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of average daily Net Asset Value during the period.

As a result of the Fund's investment in the Underlying Fund, the TER is calculated based on commissions and other portfolio transaction costs of the Fund, including such costs that are indirectly incurred by the Fund attributable to its investment in the Underlying Fund, divided by the average daily Net Asset Value of the Fund during the period.

(8) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate ("PTR") indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A PTR of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher a fund's PTR in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a fund.

PTR is calculated based on the lesser of the cumulative cost of purchases or cumulative proceeds of sales divided by the average market value of the portfolio, excluding short-term investments.

Management Fees

The Fund is managed by AGFI. As a result of providing investment and management services, AGFI receives a monthly management fee, based on the Net Asset Value of the respective series, calculated daily and payable monthly. Management fees in respect of Series I, Series O, Series Q and Series W Shares, if applicable, are arranged directly between the Manager and investors and are not expenses of the Fund. AGFI uses these management fees to pay for sales and trailing commissions to registered dealers on the distribution of the Fund's shares, investment advice, as well as for general administrative expenses such as overhead, salaries, rent, legal and accounting fees relating to AGFI's role as manager.

	As a percentage of management fees

Series F Shares	0.70%	-	100.00%

It is AGFI's policy to report rates of return for series in existence greater than one year. The performance start date for each series represents the date of the first purchase of such series, excluding seed money.

All rates of return are calculated based on the Net Asset Value.
